The Houston Housing Authority (HHA) provides affordable homes and services to more than 60,000 low-income Houstonians, including over 17,000 families housed through the Housing Choice Voucher Program (HCVP), 4,200 living in 23 public housing, mixed-income, rental assistance demonstration and tax credit developments, and an additional 716 in project-based voucher developments around the city.

AFFORDABLE HOUSING OPTIONS

Public Housing

Federally-funded housing designed to provide safe, quality rental housing for eligible low-income families, seniors, veterans, and people living with disabilities.

Mixed-Income Housing

Housing communities comprised of units at differing levels of affordability, i.e. market-rate and subsidized units.

Workforce Housing

Providing middle-income, essential workers with affordable housing in close proximity to their jobs, e.g. teachers, police officers, etc.

Tax Credit Communities

Affordable rental properties for low-income households offering lower than market-rate rent, and tax incentive for eligible tenants, e.g. seniors, people with disabilities.

HCVP

Provides low-income families and eligible individuals with a voucher to help pay for privately-owned housing. HHA's HCVP waitlist is currently closed.

HCV Homeownership Program

Families enrolled in the Family Self-Sufficiency Program and HCVP can use their voucher to purchase a home vs. rent. For first-time homebuyers only (doesn't own a home, or hasn't during the past 3 years).

Rental Assistance Demonstration (RAD)

A voluntary program of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) that seeks to preserve public housing by providing Public Housing Agencies (PHAs) with various opportunities, including access to more stable funding.
